EXPERT STAFFING AS A SERVICE (eSAAS) FROM FORTY8FIFTY LABS

We don't just offer people...We Deliver Expertise

The DevOps Journey – Powered by People

DevOps transformations are challenging, and once the journey begins, you don't want anything slowing you down. Just when you find yourself headed toward full velocification*, you realize that you need additional people power to make it happen. You need the best people, and you need them now.

With the right people, you'll be DevOps superheroes.

DevOps People Are Hard to Find

Finding qualified DevOps talent is not easy. The skillset is one of the most highly sought after in the market and there is a real shortage of qualified people out there. Don't believe us? Just ask your HR team! Finding DevOps professionals is best left to those who focus full-time on acquiring these professionals. And while you might just love a good challenge, your organization is probably better off staying focused on increasing speed to market, establishing developmental agility and introducing a smarter way of doing business – not on becoming a DevOps super recruiter.

Get the right people at the right time.

We're Here for You

We are dialed in to DevOps. Forty8Fifty Labs is VeriStor's DevOps Consulting Division that provides exclusive advisors to DevOps projects just like yours. With decades of field-proven experience solving the toughest challenges for today's CIOs, and the development and operations teams they lead, we are here to improve your DevOps journey.

Our knowledge is within your reach.

Forty8Fifty's DevOps staffing services provide highly qualified personnel to enhance and supplement your organization. We can assist with such tasks as:

- Analyzing existing development and operations environments
- Recommending improvements in build, test and release processes
- Educating teams on DevOps best practices
- Suggesting automation tools, deployment tools and cloud services
- Setting up integration and testing environments
- Implementing test automation
- Deploying Atlassian solutions: JIRA, Confluence, Bitbucket, Data Center
- Establishing code management, versioning and branching strategies
- Managing builds, providing code reviews and defining build pipelines

eSAAS

Our expert Staffing as a Service program (eSAAS) is available to augment your existing staff with the highly skilled, trained and experienced DevOps experts you need. We will join your team, embrace your projects as our own and help you meet your critical deadlines with ease. By placing your trust in us, you can focus on your business while we bring experienced, vetted DevOps consultants directly to you.

Your DevOps project becomes our DevOps project.

How Do We Get the Best Talent?

Not to brag, but talent comes to us. Our reputation for offering well managed, successful DevOps projects brings the best and brightest professionals to our door. By our very nature of being DevOps visionaries, our consultants know they will have access to the most cutting-edge technical solutions and a knowledge base that comes directly from subject matter experts. In the process, each expert on our staff brings the knowledge and expertise of the entire Forty8Fifty Labs team to your project.

Talent attracts talent.

Don't Stress

No matter where you are in your DevOps journey, don't sweat it. We have the right professionals at our fingertips who can work with you to tackle your toughest DevOps challenges. Our consultants assimilate into your existing teams to inspire collaboration and drive the cultural changes that will keep you at peak velocity. By working with Forty8Fifty Labs, you are getting the best DevOps talent right from the source.

Leave the heavy lifting to us.

velocification (vəˈ-läs-ə-fə-kā-shən) n. 1. the power to harness today's most innovative software technologies and supercharge your business. 2. the superhuman abilities to accelerate your DevOps journey, improve your business velocity and get the most out of your Atlassian solutions. 3. the other-worldly insight, experience and custom software development capabilities to unlock the full potential of your business - in a single bound.
