Reduce Your Migration Time and Cost

With CACTAS, Forty8Fifty Labs has embedded the knowledge of hundreds of migration projects into a proven, automated methodology that will get you to the cloud faster, with greater precision. The advanced assessment, scoping and remediation solution not only improves your migration process but will lower Atlassian Cloud licensing costs for the long-term value that delivers a true return on investment.

Assess with Precision
CACTAS uses deeps Atlassian Cloud knowledge and insights to properly assess your on-prem Atlassian environment to uncover potential obstacles or migration considerations early. This helps to avoid surprises that can cost time and resources during the migration process when they are harder to overcome.

Scope with Accuracy
CACTAS maps your Atlassian Cloud migration with recognized best practices to properly evaluate your project's requirements. From migration timelines to necessary resources to project requirements, you'll have the visibility you need to make your migration smoother, without surprises.

Uncover Complexities
CACTAS helps even the most complex and intricate Atlassian environments migrate with ease. The advanced methodology delivers the details you need to make more informed decisions about migration priorities and downstream impacts.

Pinpoint Gaps
CACTAS leverages field proven techniques to identify gaps in your Atlassian Cloud migration plan so that you can minimize migration risk. Have a clear view into what you need to move and what you don't so that your migration is more concise and accurate.

Remediate Fast
CACTAS will call out where critical action is required prior to and during your migration process. By identifying remediation needs and performing intervention as required, you can achieve your cloud migration in record time.

Save Up to 50% More

When moving to Atlassian Cloud, time is of the essence. Don't let complexity or lack of resources slow you down. With CACTAS, you can migrate with confidence with the full visibility you need to avoid risk and enhance time to value.

Even more, users of CACTAS experience an average cloud migration that is up to 50% faster, with better accuracy and improved long-term value. And, because you migrate only what you need, while eliminating complexity and needless data, you can also save up to 50% on your Atlassian Cloud license costs while improving your overall time to cloud value.

Based on Forty8Fifty Labs' proven iterative approach to migration services, CACTAS effectively scopes your migration effort, identifies obstacles early and outlines the key decision criteria you need to know to accelerate your cloud journey.
